

Epoch Hybrid Series

Press Release, March 2021

Northern Virginia runners or bikers, sign up for this "choose your own adventure" race series! Join Old Dominion Racing (ODR) and ultramarathoner Mike Wardian for a local (to you) challenge that provides monthly true hybrid events in a safe and physically-distant environment. On the day of your event, any time you get hungry or thirsty or need a break, stop at your choice of our participating local food joints or breweries to refuel. Our pit stops are strategically placed along trails as much as possible, each location will have Gatorade and/or water bottles (individual containers) for your consumption, provided by ODR. In addition, these locations have partnered with ODR to provide a meal, a beer, or something of similar worth to all participants.

Our first event takes place on Saturday, April 17 with an option for a 12-hour or 6-hour event with any stops you choose. When Live options are offered, Old Dominion Racing will host a base location for you to have your own space to put up a pop-up tent for you and your team. We will have food, music, and a party for a full day of racing! ODR will comply with all State Health Department regulations in place at the time of opening.

All participants will receive food/drinks from amazing local restaurants (including Green Lizard Cycling, 10 Pizzas, Old Ox Brewery, Carolina Brothers, and more), hydration stations, and a Mike Wardian Outdoor Challenge Series buff. There will be prizes for the top three male/female overall, plus raffles for free race registrations and racing gear. See you on the trail!
